Product short description:

March 2021: The long-awaited 2011 vintage (which is particularly successful in Languedoc) has finally emerged from the cellars of the domaine after 10 years of aging, bringing with it a host of new features. The winemaker does not like the new designation "Languedoc" (plain), which has replaced "Coteaux du Languedoc," so she has chosen "Vin de France." No worries, neither the winemaker nor the vines, nor the wine have changed; it is still just as good, especially in 2011!

RVF Guide to the Best Wines of France 2022 (Sept. 2021): 94/100. n°3 is showing more closed [than Belle Léone, ed. note]. This more evolved black soil gives us an impression of cigar and blond tobacco, while being powdery with fine and elongated tannins.
