Product short description:

End of April 2025: the 2015 vintage has arrived! The cuvée has been called "Belle Léone" since 2011 instead of "Syrah Léone," under the Vin de France designation and not "Coteaux du Languedoc." Indeed, the winemaker did not like the new "Languedoc" appellation (plain), which replaced "Coteaux du Languedoc" in 2011, so by choosing "Vin de France," she is no longer allowed to indicate a grape variety name on her label. One of our regulations that makes foreigners laugh! No worries, neither the winemaker, nor the vines, nor the wine are changing; it's still just as good!

RVF Guide to the Best Wines of France 2026 (Sept 2025): 93/100. The same for Belle Leon 2015, in the pure Soria style, built with powerful architecture and a rigidity that shows the wine is not yet ready.
